

Shaped gages to fit your specific needs

Our on-site, full service machining capabilities allow us to offer many value-priced blade shape options designed to accommodate almost any application. A properly designed gage can improve production efficiency and productivity.

Whether using standard material from our extensive inventory, or special material that you specify, our short lead times will measure up to your expectations.

Form ground or wire cut blade shapes are available as single size lots, or they can be applied to entire gage sets.

Additional capabilities in stamping, punching, drilling, and special cutting, allow us to generate many complex shapes to meet your needs.

We can also provide special markings, blade sizes, assembly options, and packaging to meet your requirements.
