

Dear Valued Customers,

Because of our continued growth as a leading manufacturer of standard and custom feeler gages, we've outgrown our old name. Our new name is the perfect fit. Effective May 1, 2018 Eastern Industries will become:

Over the years, we have evolved into the company with an international reputation for dependable, high quality, standard and custom feeler gages used to measure thickness, gaps, and spacing. We maintain and continue to grow the largest inventory in the industry. And we have the flexibility and capability to fulfill even the most exacting requirements. Our customers rely on us for our support and engineering expertise to meet special challenges and assembly requirements.

While we've grown, so have our manufacturing capabilities. Our experienced leaders continue to guide our expansion: they know the product and the marketplace. They also know how to listen to you, our customer, and respond to your needs. By combining talent with experience and quality with reliability, we are ideally positioned to offer the most comprehensive and unique feeler gage solutions to help all of our customers resolve their most challenging issues.

As part of the Precision Punch and Tooling Corporation, Eastern Gage continues to raise the bar even higher for product precision, manufacturing sophistication, and customer service. The company will operate in its current structure with no change in ownership or staff. Our office location, phone, and fax numbers will remain the same:
